CURES WITHOUT STOMACH DOSING.
Hyomei Cures Catarrh by Simple Breathing. Penny refunds Money if it Fails to Cure.
A long stride toward solving the mystery of curing catarrh was taken with the discovery of Hyomei. In fact, the percentage of cures by this treatment proves it equal to the final tests.

The folly of taking medicine into the stomach to cure catarrh of the nose, throat and lungs, has been realized by physicians, but not until Hyomei was known, had they a practical method that would obviate stomach dosing.

A complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1, and consists of a neat pocket inhaler that can be used anywhere without attracting attention, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei.

Breathing Hyomei through the inhaler, every particle of air that enters the nose, throat and lungs, is charged with a healing balsam that soothes and allays all irritation, kills the catarrhal germs and enriches the blood with additional ozone.

Mr. Penny has so much faith in the power of Hyomei to cure catarrh that he is selling it under a personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not give positive relief.

The board of lady managers of the St. Louis exposition declares that it has only spent about $20,000 up to date, while President Francis estimates its expenditures at $72,000. Every married man in the country will be able to understand which of the figures are most likely to be correct, says the Lexington Democrat.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

Mrs. Emily Wheeler is dead at Gradyville, aged 70.
Judge S. H. Hart is dead in the Perryville section of Boyle.

The Danville company of State militia will be inspected by a regular army officer March 30.
Alex C. Franklin, father of the well-known jeweler, S. C. Franklin, of Mt. Vernon, is dead in Rockcastle.

The jury in the case of Robt. Woods for killing his step-father-in-law in Clay county, returned a verdict of not guilty.

A gas explosion at Danville, the result of a plumber attempting to light a cigarette while making pipe connections, injured two persons seriously and several slightly.

Five penitentiary sentences were given in one day in the Clay circuit court. For the first time since the organization of the county, not a single murder case is on the docket.

There is considerable excitement in the eastern part of the county over the discovery of gold. Frank Hampton, of near Goodland, found near the surface in a small hill on his farm, a deposit which impressed him as being gold. He took two pieces of the ore, one of which he sent to Cincinnati and the other to St. Louis to be analyzed. From that which he sent to Cincinnati he has already received the analysis and $3.30 in money. On the A grade he was allowed $1.50 for 30 ounces of the ore and on the C grade $1.80 for 60 ounces.—Mt. Vernon Signal.

Grand-Mother At 80.

Columbus, O., has for a resident a woman who is probably the youngest grandmother in the United States, and besides this, she is her own daughter's sister-in-law, is the aunt of her grandson and the sister-in-law of her son-in-law, while her husband is the father-in-law to his own brother and brother-in-law to his step-daughter.

The woman is Mrs. Ann Lutz, wife of Alva Lutz, a baggage man at Union Station, and she will not be 30 years old until July 1.

She does not appear to be much older than her daughter, Mrs. Lettie Lutz, aged 15, who is married to Theodore Lutz, the brother of her mother's husband. The son and grand son is named Earl Leroy, and he is two months old.

Mrs. Lutz was first married to a man named Lockhart, the father of her daughter, at the age of 13.

They lived in Pike county, where, after Mr. Lockhart's death, she married Mr. Lutz, whose home was in Lucasville, Scioto county, and about three years ago they moved to Columbus.

Dress of Hindoo Women.

There has been no change in Indian women's dress in 4,000 years. All wear the sari, a single piece of stuff a yard and a quarter wide, 10, 12, 30 yards long. It is arranged on the body and forms skirt, garment and veil. First pleated with the hand in accordion folds in front, wound round and round and the richest end, if embroidered, or woven with gold, finally brought over the head. It may be of simple cotton cloth, or silk in plain design, woven with golden threads, solid with embroidery; strung with pearls, or of Kin-cob, the royal cloth of gold. Some cost thousands of rupees. No pin, hook, button or string. The garment is formed on the architecture of the body, and takes its expression and nobility from its perfect harmony with the human form. An Indian woman, whether of high or low class, have jewels everywhere; have sleeping gems and daggers, as we say and night shirts.—Everybody's Magazine.

REMEDY FOR FROST BITES.—Before going to bed, soak frozen member, whether feet or hands, in hot water, or as near hot as endurable, and then soak two or three times in kerosene. Repeat this three nights in succession, and it is pretty sure to bring relief. Take care not to freeze feet or hands again, as it will render them more liable to be affected with the next freeze. Frost bitten heels and toes cause considerable trouble after warm weather sets in unless attended to now.

A Favorite Remedy For Babies.

Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds and prevents any danger of pneumonia or other serious consequences. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. For sale by W. N. Craig.

"Sir," said the man whose knee shook when the train entered a tunnel, "do you know the most dangerous thing on a railroad train?"

"Do It To Day"—The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'til tomorrow what you can do to day," is now generally presented in this: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it to-day—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.
